

The Council has started working in the Committee for Roads

Consistent work is being done in the country to improve communication between state bodies and citizens, to ensure reliable protection of citizens' rights and freedoms, and to introduce modern mechanisms for solving their problems.

In particular, a number of works have been carried out to create a unified system of pre-trial dispute resolution, to transform mediation, arbitration courts and international arbitration into effective alternative dispute resolution institutions that can be trusted by citizens and businessmen.

In this matter, it should be recognized that the decision of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On measures to further improve the mechanisms of alternative dispute resolution" was an important legal basis.

By the appropriate order of the Committee of Motorways, the activity of the appeal board for the settlement of disputes between individuals and legal entities and state bodies before the court was launched.

According to the decision, the following are defined as the main tasks of the Appellate Council:

taking steps to resolve disputes arising between individuals and legal entities and state bodies before the court and making a conclusion;

in the event that norms that can be interpreted in different ways are identified in the legal document during the review of the appeal, in the event that it is used incorrectly or in a conflicting manner in practice, to take measures to organize their official interpretation in the prescribed manner;

making proposals to eliminate the gaps in the legislation identified during the review of the appeal.
